Train-wreckers.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Sun tomorrow will appear a letter addressed to the editor from Jay Gould, in which the writer says that there is a group of roads known as the Western and Southwestern system, traversing the most fertile and rapidly-developing territory of the United States, and that the stock and bonds of these properties are held by thousands of investors in the West, and that upon the prosperity of these roads many small investors depend for dividends upon which to live.

"Something over eighteen months ago," writes Gould, "during the period of great depression, thee great period of great depression, thee great banking houses invited the presidents of these roads to meet. The result of that meeting was the formation of a so-called 'president's agreement,' and it may interest you to know the difference in the net earnings of this group of roads as between the rates established and maintained for several mouths after that agreement and the rates which have prevailed under the loose and disorganized state of affairs that has existed since the agreement was broken. I estimate the total number of tons moved one mile annually by this group to be 16,000,000,000. The auditor of one of these roads furnished me a statement showing the difference between the rates under the

THE LADY WRITES A LETTER IN HER HUSBAND'S DEFENSE.

The Officer Was Unaware That He Was Paying for a Cannibal Feast-Bonney Talks Some More.

By Telegraph to The Times. LONDON, Nov. 14.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Mrs. Jameson writes to the papers inclosing a letter written by her husband to Sir William McKinnon after Asad Farran's story had been told, entering a vigorous de nial of its truth. In the letter Jameson said he was deceived. He saw a curious native dance which Tippo Tib told him was usually followed by a cannibal feast. He was skeptical, where, the same time he felt a dealre upon another Arab told him (Jameson) to cough, together with difficulty of to give him a piece of cloth and he would see. Jameson thought this was a trick to obtain the gift, but gave the Arabs six handkerchiefs. The girl was dragged out and murdered before he knew what was going on. He made no sketches at the time, but made them that evening in his hut. Jameson goes on to tell of the disreputable character of Asad, and in-husband was about to take further steps to clear himself when stricken by the fatal fever.

by the fatal fever.

Bonney's official report is printed. In the course of it he severely criticizes the management of Jameson and Barttelot, who, he says, were hand-inglove. They endeavored to hamper him (Bonney) in various ways. He says that the march from Yambuya to Unaria was delayed constantly by bluster, swagger and bad management. Speaking of the serious loss of arms and stores, he says that during the twenty four days of Barttelott's absence, when he (Bonney,) was in charge, they never lost a man or load, and traveled quicker. By Barttelot's management the goods were alterwards scattered all over the district, and many of them looted.

In Bonney's letter to Barttelot's father, telling of the Major bringing chains from Stanley Falls for slaves, be says: "You may not like to hear this, but the facts are in possession of the Congo State authorities, and you had best be prepared for any state-

Tuberculosis in Its Early Stages Completely Cured.

Sufferers from the Disease Flocking to the German Capital.

The Professor Relates His Experiments in the Columns of a Medical Journal - Consumptive Hospitals.

By Telegraph to The Times. BERLIN, Nov. 14 .- [By Cable and Associated Press.] Prof. Koch publishes an article in the Deutsche Medizinische Wochenschrift on the cure o tuberculosis. Prof. Koch says that as yet he is unprepared to indicate the source from which the curative matter is derived and the mode of preparation, for the reason that experimental work is still in progress. He states that the curative lymph itself can be obtained from Dr. Libbertz, address 28 Luenebourger strasse, Berlin. The lymph is described as consisting of a brownish transparent liquid so prepared as to be proof against deterioration. When diluted with water for use the matter is liable to decay. It is necessary, therefore, that the attenuations be perfectly sterilized by heat and preserved in a wadding covering or prepared with a solution of phenol 50 per cent, strong. When taken into the stomach the curative matter proves to have no for the reason that experimental work

Twenty-five-nundredths of a cubic centimeter intensely affected a healthy man who was subjected to the experiment, whils two centimeters applied to a guinea pig had little effect. Prof. Koch injected twenty-five-hundredtha of a cubic centimeter under the skin of his own arm and within a few hours experienced a contraction of the limbs and a marked feeling of lassitude. At an unusually violent rigor, accompa-nied with nausea, and the temperature of the body rose rapidly. After twelve hours the symptoms began to abate and the next day the body resumed its normal degree. The heaviness of the limbs and languid feeling continued for several days, however.

The same results follow when the fuld is applied to diseased persons sufthat then imbreoicals incolors, but it persons sirected with tuberculosis the same quantity produces a general and local reaction. The reaction can best by observed in those whose affection is visible, as for instance persons suffering from lupus. Within a few hours after injection the lupus sores began to swell and finally assumed a dark brown tint. As 'the fever subsides the swelling decreases and generally disappears, scabs of matter falling off later. The portions of skin not clearly recognized as lupus are not effected.

It is asserted with confidence that the remedy may be considered an auxiliary to diagnosis and in doubtful cases insiplent consumption can be diagnosed by its use. Prof. Koch expresses the belief that his remedy will diagnosed by its use. Prof. Koch expresses the belief that his remedy will certainly prove a cure for insipient consumption: Whether, however, the cure will be final and definite is not definitely proved. Further experiments are necessary to determine this.

The remedy can only influence living tuberculosis tissue. It has no effect upon dead tissue, and produces no effect upon tissue, and produces no effect upon tissues which have already been killed by the application of the remedy. It is quite possible that such tissue may still contain living tuber-culosis bacilli, which may again invade the adjacent living tissue. It follows, therefore, that tuberculosis tissue that is still living must be first decayed. When this has been accomplished every effort must be made to remove the dead matter by surgery. Where this is impossible, and secretion can only slowly proceed, the living tissue must be protected by the continued application of the remedy.

The remedy is applied in cumulative doses. A small quantity at first suffices to produce strong action, but as each succeeding injection causes a effect upon tissues which have already hees to produce strong action, but as each succeeding injection causes a disappearance of a quantity of the tissue capable of reaction, increased doses are necessary until the patient experiences as little reaction as non-tuberculos people. Patients who have been treated in the early stages of phthisis have all been freed from morbid symptoms within from four to six weeks, when they fray be regarded six weeks, when they may be regarded as healed.

Consumptives with large cavaties in their langs will probably derive benefit from the new remedy only in excep-tional cases. In all cases Prof. Koch tional cases. In all cases from Koon emphasizes the necessity of early treatment. In only the incipient stages of the disease, he declares, can the remedy fully develop its efficacy. He deprecates the mechanical and indisrecates the mechanical and indis-criminate application of the remedy, holding it preferable that treatment should be applied in suitable institutions where careful observation is pos-

E. Sorable, Jean Parkes and Edwin Gregory.
The charge upon which Edelman is now being tried is that he caused to be presented a fraudulent claim to the County Treasurer for payment. It is alleged that for the month of February, 1889, while clerk of Department One of the Superior Court, he placed upon his jury book as a trial juror F. A. Bliss, and that subsequently he caused to be drawn upon the strength of his fraudulent return $64.

THE TESTIMONY.
The first witness to take the stand was

The first witness to take the stand was County Treasurer Jabez Banbury. He County Treasurer Jabez Banbury. He swore that on divers occasions L. B. Cohn had presented to him county warrants for payment. Upon being shown the fraudulent Bilss warrant he swore that he had paid the amount to L. B. Cohn, March 6, 1889. The handwriting on the back of the note Mr. Banbury identified as that of L. B. Cohn. The introduction of this testimony was objected to on the ground that it did not connect the defendant. The court admitted it, however, temporarily, agreeing to rule it out unless it was connected with the defendant later on.

On cross-examination Mr. Banbury said that he did not know in whose handwriting the body of the warrant was.

The next witness was the gentleman with a short and weak memory, L. B. Cohn. After being sworn be was shown the Bilss warrant. He testified that he had first seen it in his own store, but he did not remember from whom he received it. He had received warrants at various times from Henry Edeiman. He had indorsed the name of "F. A. Bilss" on the back of the warrant. He supposed the treasurer authorized him to do so, but did not exactly know.

He supposed that he had indorsed it by L. B. Cohn.

The court denied the request of the Deputy District Autorney to ask leading questions.

The witness did not recollect whether or not the defendant was present at the time he first saw the warrant.

Mr. Hardesty wearied of endeavoring to extract any facts from the unwilling vitness and he was withdrawn.

Frank Lautario, the ex-Deputy County Auditor, was called next. Upon being shown the Bliss warrant he sowre that he had delivered it to Henry Edelman, the defendant As to the handwriting in the body of the warrant he could not swear positively whose it was A teating the head of the collection he had delivered it to Henry Edelman, the defendant terio was resumed. He swore that the defendant had brought to him a paper bearing certain names upon it opposite which were certain sums to be an allowance for jury fees. Edelman, the witness said, had informed him that he was authorized to draw the warrants for the several, parties on the lists.

Lauterio swore that he had drawn the particular Bilss warrant, but immediately withdrew the statement and said that he had at least delivered the warrant to Edelman, it having been prepared by some one in the office. This closed the direct examination.

On cross-examination Lauterio admitted

On cross-examination Lauteric admitted that he had been in consultation with Mr. Hardesty during the noon recess.

Mr. White asked the question if the witness was not under indictment for fraudulently presenting to the County Treasurer a caim for allowance.

The District Attorney objected to the question on the ground that it was incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Mr. White explained that he only desired te show the circumstances surrounding the witness in this case and under which he was testifying. The court overruled the objection.

which he was testifying. The court overruled the objection.

The witness admitted that he was under indictment on such a charge. He did not know why he had not been tried upon the charge, although he had been in the county for over a year since the indictment was returned. Lautero denied that there was an understanding between himself and the District Attorney whereby, it his testimony in the Edelman cases was satisfactory, three indictments pending against him were to be dismissed.

Mr. White asked the witness if he did not abscond to avoid prosecution in the summer of 1839 and leave his bondsmen in the lurch.

The question was objected to and the objection was sustained by the court.
For the time this closed the cross-examination.

On the redirect examination, Lauterio said that he had had very few conversations with the District Attorney or his deputies. He had received no promises of reward or favors for his testimony in this case.

The defense then resumed the cross-examination of the witness. He was asked if he had not, in the summer of 1889, after his return from San Bernardino county, had a conversation with F. E. Lopez, during which he asked Lopez to go to A. A.

Taking of Testimony in the Edelman Case.

A WITNESS OF SHORT MEMORY

The Fraudulent Warrant Fully Identified—Frank Lauterio on the Superior Cout, before Judge Wade and a jury.

The taking of testimony in the case of the People against Henry W. Edelman commenced yesterday in Department Six of the Superior Cout, before Judge Wade and a jury.

All told, six witnesses were examined yesterday. But perhaps the most remarkable wines of the sextette was L. B. Cohn, the pawnbroker. Mr. Cohn is an uncle of the defendant. He gave evidence of the most remarkable and unheard of lapse of memory.

The defendant has engaged the best of cunsel in the person of Messrs. Gage & White. The prosecution is represented by Deputy District Autorney Hardesty and Messrs. Silent & Campbell,

The jury that is impaneled to try the case comprises the following: J. K. Stuting, Whitlam Evans, A. C. Day, J. W. Woodruff, L. S. Butler, C. Charnock, Dan Jones, Matkew Dinsmore, W. Docksteder, E. Sorable, Jean Parkes and Edwin Gregory.

Another Meeting of the Nominating Committee.

A BREAK IN THE HARMONY

A Long List of Names Placed in Nomination, but No Ballots Taken-Adjourned to Monday.

The Nominating Committee of the Mu ni The Nominating Committee of the Mu ni cipal Reform Association was out in full force last evening. It had been previously agreed that at a meeting to be held in the courtroom of one of the city justices nominations for city offices would be made. The consequence was that at 7:30 last evening every available chair in the courtroom of Justice Lockwood was occupied by the committeemen, nearly the entire one hundred being on hand.

The hour announced for the meeting to be called to order was 7:30 p. m. but it was fully 8 o'clock before the delegations from the various wards had secured their seats. Then Chairman Bosbyshell rapped for or-

Then Chairman Bosbyshell rapped for order.

The chairman made the preliminary announcement that the hall was crowded, and that, while there was no particular desire for secrecy, still it was not a good idea to have outsiders seated with committeemen. He therefore asked if it was the sense of the meeting that all except committeemen take seats behind the railing. By an almost unanimous vote the committee approved the suggestion of the chairman, and outsiders to the number of about thirty took seats behind the rail.

On motion of Raiph E. Hoyt, George Bohon was made sergeant-at-arms, with orders to keep the door.

A roli call disclosed the fact that seventy-one committeemen were present.

C. P. Doriand moved that a committee of C. P. Dorland moved that a committee of five be appointed to recommend the order in which nominations should be made. The chairman then appointed the follow-ing committeemen: C. P. Dorland, Thomas Goss, H. W. Hellman, L. Lichtenberger, L. N. Breed.

L. N. Breed.
H. D. Barrows moved that a committee of five be appointed to prepare an address to the voters of the city.
F. Sabichi moved as an amendment that Mr. Barrows alone prepare the address. Later Mr. Sabichi withdrew his amendment and the original motion prevalled.
The chair started to appoint the committee to prepare the address, H. D. Barrows, H. Sinsabaugh and Raiph Hoyt were named.

tee to prepare the address. H. D. Barrows, H. Sinsabaugh and Raiph Hoyt were named.

Then L. Lichtenberger arose and said that he did not think a piatform was necessary. The men the committee would nominate would be a piatform in themselves. He therefore moved for a reconsideration of the vote by which the appointment of the Committee on Piatform was ordered.

Aifred Moore favored a reconsideration. He thought that the old parties were scheming to get hold of the reform movement, and one of their schemes was the appointment of this Committee on Piatform. Mr. Moore's statements were not favorably received by the committee.

The motion to reconsider prevailed and the motion for the appointment of the Committee on Piatform was tabled.

A recessor ten munites was then taken to give the Committee on Order of numinations time to prepare their report.

Dr. Sinsabaugh stated that he hoped no more reflections would be thrown out such as Moore had given uttersnee to a few moments previous. He said that he was tired of hearing ring and scheme shouted every time a motion for the appointment of a committee was made.

"There are politicians and tricksters on this committee, and unless we look out sharp we will be duped. You know this," said Moore, waving his hands wildly at Dr. Sinsabaugh.

"Ido not," replied the doctor.

ore, waving his hands was near the hall of the color of the hall.

"I do not," replied the doctor.

"You do," reiterated Moore.

"Order, order," said a voice in the hall.

Then the chairman rapped loudly with as gavel.

Moore still held the floor. "Sit down, for God's sake," said a voice that could be heard to Spring street. But, amid hissing, Moore continued to talk for a minute of two and then he subsided.

"The rest of the recess, the chair the rest of the recess, the chair of the rest of the recess."

Moore continued to talk for a minute of two and then he subsided.

Pending the rest of the recess, the chairman held a consultation with some of the members of the committee as to the best may to abrogate the nuisance, but no agreed plan was formulated.

At 8:45 the meeting was again called to order to receive the report of the Committee

the committee was as follows:

THE LIBRARY BOARD.

A QUESTION RAISED AS TO ITS LEGALITY.

State Law Passed in 1880 Which Provides for the Election of Library Directors by the People.

For several days past there has been con siderable discussion about the City Hall as to the status of the Board of Library Directors, and it is the opinion of several leading lawyers that the board as at present consti-tuted is an illegal body, in fact, that it has no status at all in law, and never has had any. Others, however, claim that such is not the case, and it is probable that the Council will at its next meeting request the City Attorney to look into the case, with a view to having the question passed upon by the courts.

The present members of the board were appointed by the Mayor under the new harter, and have since been performing the duties of their office under the pro-visions of the charter. Quite recently, F. H. Howard, Esq., one of the members of the board, in looking over the code, dis-covered that there was a general State law covered that there was a general State law bearing on the case, in fact, covering the whole matter. This law has been overlooked for the reason that in printing the code it was embodied in an appendix to the Penal Code, a place that no one would think of looking for it, and its "discovery" at this late day caused quite a commotion among the lawyers.

Penal Code, a piace that no one would think of looking for it, and its "discovery" at this late day caused quite a commotion among the lawyers.

The law in question is an act of the Legislature, approved April 25, 1889, and which went into effect on May 1 following, provides for the conduct of free fibraries and reading-rooms in cities of 100,000 and over, and in cities of less than 100,000, and is general in its character. By this act it is expressly stated in section 5, that "five trustees shall be elected at the same time and in the same namer as other town officers are elected." The act then goes on the explain at length the duties and powers of the trustees, how funds shall be r.ised, and flow finey small be disbursed, "for the objects provided in this act." Thus it will be seen that for ten years past the law has been in existence on the statute books, without any one knowing it, and it might have remained ten years longer, but for the accidental discovery by Mr. Howard, who promtply in de the matter known.

Wene asked yesterday what the status of the present board is, a prominent attorney said: "The members of the present board are probably de facto trustees, though not defure, that is they have been appointed in good faith, and I suppose if no one makes any decided objection, they may be allowed to finish their terms, especially as the election is so near. They have a state in law, and if any one wishes to take the trouble 1 suppose they could be ousted. As to the past acts of the board, I should say off-hand, that would be allowed to stand, as they were ignorant of the law, and acted in good faith, and I suppose if no one makes any decided objection, they may be allowed to stand, as they were ignorant of the law, and acted in good faith, and it is provided to take the trouble 1 suppose they could be ousted. As to the past acts of the board, I should say off-hand, that would be allowed to stand, as they were ignorant of the law, and acted in good faith, and it is preserved to be administrative was a new

At any rate, the matter is being investigated, and should it be decided that the charter provision is invalid for the reason that it co-flicts with the State law the five directors will be elected at the approaching municipal election.

THE BEE-KEEPERS.

Meeting of the Southern California Association—The Officers.
The Southern California Bec-keepers' Association, comprising within its jurisdiction the counties of Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Santa Barbara, San Diego and San Bernardino, met at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of adopting a constitution and electing officers for the ensuing year. C. N. Wilson, who has been untiring in his efforts to further the bee industry of this State, was chosen president by actimation. G. W. Brodbeck of this city was elected secretary, and C. W. Abbott of Pasadena the treasure. The following vice-presidents were also elected: Gerge B. Woodbury, Verdugo, Los Angeles, San Bernardino county. Finance Committed the their than the counties of the county of the state of the county of the state of the county of the state of the county of the county of the county. The county of the county of Acton: C. W. Newaii, Murietta, and E. E. Shattuck, Garvanza.

The enthusiasm and interest displayed in the organization of this society speaks well for the bee industry of Southern California. It has often been charged that there are out for the bee industry of Southern California. It has often been charged that there are but few progressive bee-keepers, but the facts prove to the contrary, and nowhere in the United States could there be such an assemblage of veritable "Bee Kings" without attracting notice from all over the country.

The constitution and by-laws adopted by the association are very strong in their purposes, and a few extracts are given to show the aims and objects of this society: The mutual protection of bee-keepers and advancement of their interests; to secure fair transportation rates; to get exact information as to the best markets for honey; to effectually enforce the laws of this State as to foul brood among bees and that the assessed value of bees be uniform according to law, to work together to obtain a more uniform price for honey, as the prevailing methods are detrimental to both smail and large producers. The success of this organization will be looked to with great interest, as the production of honey in the State is of no small importance when it is considered that the group of the past season amounted to over three million pounds. The busy little bee, in spite of its tender regards for people's feelings, has added much wealth to the beekeepers of this State.

(7.) THE SUNDAY CLOSING OF SALOONS (I.) THE SUNDAY CLOSING OF SALOONS WOULD INVOLVE HO INVANCEMENT OF THE SALOON KEPPER'S RIGHTS. Every business must be pro-secuted in subservience to the interests of the community; and it is for the majority to determine what is and what is not compatible with the welfare of soc ety. The legislation of all our States proves that the liquor traffic is one which peculiarly needs, and has had, restrictive and legislative enactments. The ordinance now contemulated concernents. The ordinance now contemplated would be in the nature o a police regulation, and in keeping with such laws as forbid the sale of liquors to minors, or to habitual drunkards, or on election day, or near religious camp-meetings or educational institutions. The Supreme Court of this state has declared such regulation as we propose as within the religibility of the proper public authorities.

A LAID GHOST.

There is little doubt that we have heard the last of State division. It is ghost that is laid. At no time was it much more than a spectre of small proportions, seen only by the smaller minds; but if there ever was danger that it might become a thing of life, the recent grand indorsement of a Southern man for Governor, by majorities in the north which make those given him in his own section seem niggardly, have effectually cleared the

A DISGRACE TO CIVILIZATION.

That is, indeed, a pretty spectacle, which the Stanley expedition offers to the world, as shown in the latest disclosures, which appear to be well authenticated. Not only were the native employes treated with the grossest brutalityp but, according to the affidavit of a member of the party, Jameson, one of the lieutenants, purchashed a native girl for the purpose of having her killed and eaten to satsfy his morbid curiosity, he making sketches of the unfortunate wretch's ghastly death and the partition of her limbs among the natives. As showing the character of the men engaged in this expedition, Bonney, another lieutenant, excuses Jameson's devilish act "on the ground of his being an enthusiastic naturalist."

What an example to set to the natives of the dark continent! What a contrast to the course of the benevo-lent and self-sacrificing Livingsione The French Geographical Society was, it appears, after all, right in regusing to recognize Stanley when he came through Paris. We do not believe—it is not charged—that he sanctioned these shocking outrages, but he was the chief of the expedition, he had the selection of his lieutenants, and he should at least have chosen men who would act, not perhaps as missionaries or philanthropists, but as average, everyday, civilized beings, not as brutal demons.

The disclosures that have been made in regard to this expedition must cause the blush of shame to mantle the face of civilized humanity and forever cast a shadow on the fame which Stanley has earned as a courageous and persistent explorer.

THE ROOT OF THE EVIL

From time to time the police make defeat of the Republicans in America, a stray arrest of a member of that desand nominates Grover Cleveland for picable class of creatures who live on resident in 1892. The London Times the earnings of prostitutes. When is the chief organ of free trade, and it caught in some especially brutal outnaturally takes an interest in the se- rage upon their victims, they are subjected to a light fine, to pay which they proceed to make their slave work harder. These men, who are unmis-takably vagrants, who never do an honest day's work, are all well known to the police, and could, if necessary be driven out of town within twentyfour hours. Why is this not done? Why can they not, at least, be locked up over election day, when even saons have to close? Is it because they have a political "pull"-because their services are needed? Rumor has it that a defeated candidate for a county office and an elected candidate for a judicial position were canvassing together on New High street, among this class of men, on election day. It is a well-known fact that these vagrants are, at every election, the busiest workers around the polls at many of the city precincts. What hope can there be for clean politics as long as this state of affairs is allowed to continue? A stream cannot rise higher than its source. When candidates owe their election largely to the fraternity of pimps, can they be expected, as officials, to treat them with severity?

This is a filthy canker, a putrid sore, which lies at the root of all political corruption in Los Angeles. It is an Augean stable, which must be cleaned out before we can hope to purify local politics. All schemes of reform which lo not take this element into account will fall short of permanently good effect. What avail meetings, resolutions, good nominations, as long as the purchased vote of this disreputable element holds the balance of power at the polls?

A beautiful tree may flourish in a manure heap, because the wonderful chemistry of nature knows how to filter the material from which plant life obtains it growth, but no men, however good their intentions may be can ever establish a healthy political system whose roots draw nourishmen from the purlieus of the most degraded class of beings that God suffers to exist upon earth.

BIRCHALL HANGED.

The Murderer of Benwell Dies in Silence.

A Final Statement Repudiating Al Purported Confessions.

The Condemned Man Meets Death With Admirable Fortitude.

An Impressive Scene Witnessed by Newspaper Men and Jallers-The Crime for Which Birchall Died.

By Telegraph to The Times. WOODSTOCK (Ont.,) Nov. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] At 8:31½ this morning Reginald Birchall was launched into eternity for the murder of his fellow-countryman, F. C. Benwell. He partook sparingly of breakfast at 6, then began to prepare for the final ordeal. He put on a white flannel shirt, with coat and vest, but asked the turnkey to see this replaced after the execution by the ordinary white shirt with starched collar and tie. He would not wear a starched collar at the execution, he said, because it might interfere with placing the rope around his neck. At 6:30 and from then on the crowd began to collect in front of the jail, chiefly newspaper men from all over Canada and the United States. At half-past 7 the doors of the jail were opened and the crowd being admitted, passed through to the yard in which the scaffold was erected. About one hundred and fifty were admitted. The executioner appeared on the scene at twenty-five minutes before 8, rope in hand, and began to put things n order. The scaffold was made of three pieces of timber six inches square. Two uprights were sunk in the ground and the third timber crossed over the top. The rope ran over pulleys in this cross beam, and a canister weight of 350 pounds of iron was attached to the opposite end of the noose and held up by a cord to a staple. The cutting of this cord

Night Guard Midgley, with a hard look about the mouth, but a tellale mistiness about the eyes, climbed the stairs and stood on the gallery be-side Birchall's corridor door. There the old soldier stood, gloomy and sor-rowful, until the sad procession passed out and down the spiral steps.

At 8:23 the executioner was beckened to goup. He had been walking around the retunda, in his hands the straps with which to tie Birchall's arms, waiting for the signal. He put benind his back and partly under the skirt of his coat the russet colored straps and went up stairs. A minute or two he took to strap the prisoner's arms behind his back, then began the awful march to

SERVICE FOR THE DEAD; behind him Dr. Chamberlin, fol-lewed by R. D. Stewart and Deputy Sheriff Perry. The prisoner came next, deathly pale, but resolute. His jaws locked with the fixity of death, his step steady. His jet black hair and mustache made the paller of his face look like marble. He was dressed in dark-colored tweed clothes, a white flannel shirt and black bow at the collar and light patent leather shoes. He looked so young and there was such an expression of immovable reso-

intion and undaunted courage that men who saw him and knew him worthy of Jeath in the eye of the law forgot he had shot a friend in the back in a lonely swamp. The faces of the men there were as white almost as that of the doomed man. At the foot of the spiral staircase the procession reformed and his friend Leetham waked on one side of him with Day Guard George Perry. THE MARCH WAS SLOW the corridor and out into the Leetham walked close and held one hand in both of his with the assur-ance of a friend's heart-clasp. The principal actors in the tragedy stepped within fifteen feet of the gallows, and the solemn tones of the Anglican service thrilled every one there with sorrow, which hardly let them realize the tremendous importance of that which they were taking part. They felt overpowering pity for the black-haired, white-faced young man standing on the threshhold of eternity. His eyes had not a trace of the frivolity that lightened his imprisonment. As he stood listening to the low-toned priest they were fixed on the blue sky over to the north. There was not a hunted look nor was there any fear in his eyes, but a fixed purpose that seemed to consume his reason. It is not possible to imagine the expres-sion of his face. It was not despair, but he had strung his whole being up to die game. At the words

BIRCHALL'S CRIME.

His Victim Led to a Lonely Swamp —Conclusive Evidence.
WOODSTOCK (Ont.,) Nov. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Birchall murdered Frederick C. Benwell on the afternoon of February 17th in "Dead Man's Swamp," near Woodstock, Ont. Early on the morning of the above day Birchall and Benwell took the train which left Buffalo at 6:28 o'clock to look over Birchall's airy electriclighted farmer's castle in Woodstock. Birchall returned that same eyening to the Buffalo Hotel, where his wife and Pelly had been left, but he returned alone. Birchall made his appearance in Woodstock two years ago with two companions, Dudley and Pickthall, who afterward disappeared. Subsequently returning to England, he picked up two new victims, Pelly and Benwell, and induced them to embark in his mythical stock farm. He was quick to send his dupe to the grave, for no sooner had he reached Buffalo than he left his wife and Pelley behind, in order to escort Benwell to the slaughter ground alone.

The body was soon found by two wood-choppers and identification was easy. Arrest trod on the heels of suspicion, and a chain of circumstantial evidence too strong to be broken was soon riveted around the prisoner. The judge in his charge to the jury reviewed the many points in the case. lighted farmer's castle in Woodstock.

judge in his charge to the jury re-viewed the many points in the case, and at length he pointed out the dif-ference between direct and circumference between direct and circumstantial evidence, showing that the latter when conclusive was far more reliable. He reverted to letters written by the prisoner to Benwell's father, and asked what was the object of these letters. All was deception, and the prisoner must have known that Benwell would never write such a letter to his father. The condition of the clothing on the pody when found dister to his father. The condition of the clothing on the body when found disproved the theory of the defense that the murder was for plunder. Every mark on the clothing was removed, and had it not been for finding the cigar-holder Benwell's death would always have remained a mystery. Though implicated in the coroner's verdet, Mrs. Birchall was cleared of any conpection with the crime by the verdict. Mrs. Birchall was cleared of any connection with the crime by the Grand Jury.

New Inventions Applied to Men-of-War - Gen. Dewey Reports for the Bureau of Equipment.

By Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON, Nov 14 .- [By the Associated Press.] Some interesting remarks bearing upon reciprocity were exchanged today on the occasion of the reception of Señor Guanes, the new Spanish Minister to the United States, by President Harrison. Senor Guanes said: "The international exchange of products and manufactures of the United States and Spain is surely one of the necessary laws that are based upon instincts and the universal needs of the present day, and the greater the difference between their customs, dispositions and the productions of their labor so much the more necessary is it for the nations to come closer together and increase their exchanges. To maintain these interests and to contribute to their development shall be the object of the most solicitous care."

President Harrison, replying, said:

"It is most gratifying that in thus entering upon your mission you express in the name of your sovereign and the Spanish nation a warm desire for continued harmony of relations and intimacy of intercourse between the United States and Spain, Inspired by like sentiments, I count upon your promised aid in developing larger relations and closer ties of amity and commerce, which both nations desire for their reciprocal advantage."

THE ENGLISH VIEW.

Sir Lyon Playfair Delivers a Speech on the Tariff. LONDON, Nov. 14.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Sir Lyon Playfair, in a speech at Leeds last night, dwelt at great length on the tariff policy of the United States. He cited a host of statistics to show that the consumers always paid the extra duty. The effects of the tariff will be disastrous to American agriculture, he declared, and Canada will be able to supply Great Britain with all the food she now gets from the United States. If Canada would reconstruct her tariff on revenue principles Europe and Asia would contribute to her future commercial prosperity. Referring to the meat inspec-tion bill of America he declared that the empowering of the President to by cott nations was an act unworthy of the great nation. The boycott never hitherto had been recognized by international law. He considered the reciprocity clause in the McKinley Bill a safety-valve to prevent the high pressure from blowing up protection. Already there were signs in Germany, Italy and elsewhere of flags of distressin protection camps. Though England might be injured for a year or two by the United States tariff legislation he hoped that we would not dream of reprisals.

The Times in a long editorial says that Sir Lyon's speech is the most complete exposure yet published on either side of the Atlantic of the absurdity of the McKinley tariff. The opponents of high protective duties, it says, could hardly do better than to circulate his dispassionate argument among the American electorate before the next contest for control of the executive power. power.

The War Department Preparing to Suppress an Indian Revolt.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Late advices from the Pine Ridge agency, South Datots, are to the effect that the excitement among the Indians on account of the new Messiah. new Messiah is rapidly increasing. Some apprehension is felt that if active measures are not taken by the Government a serious outbreak may occur during the early spring or even before. It is said; however, that the Government has the whole situation in hand and will at once and effectually crush out the very first signs of an uprising.

PREPARED TO ACT.

PREPARED TO ACT. CHICAGO. Nov. 14 .- The Daily News CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The Daily News'. Washington special asserts that on the recommendation of Gen. Miles the War Department has ordered troops from several points in the vicinity of the Sioux Reservation to take the field at once. There will doubtless be a repetition of the scene enacted several years ago when Gen. Sheridan massed a large force of United States troops near Fort Reno, I. T., and prevented a threatened outbreak. The War Department now proposes to War Department now proposes to make a similar demonstration against the Northern Indians and spend no time parleying with them.

THE WOMAN'S CRUSADE.

Opening of the Annual Meeting of the W. C. T. U. at Atlanta. ATLANTA (Ga.,) Nov. 14.—By the Associated Press.] The National Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union began here this afternoon with a large attendance, President Frances E. Willard presiding. A public meeting was held tonight, at which Miss Willard delivered her annual address. It is lengthy, covering 107 pages. It dealt with the year's work and declared the W.C.T.U. to be now closing its heat year and one

ANOTHER BIG INVESTMENT

About a Million Dollars to be Expended on the Horse-car -The Electric Belt Lines -The Terminal.

It is very evident that the Chicago stock holders in the Los Angeles Cable Company have great faith in the future of this city. They have already put $2,500,000 in the road, and vesterday they decided to put up about $1,000,000 more in an electric plant for their horse-car lines. They have had this scheme under advisements for some months past, and a few days ago four of them came out here and in the company of Mr. Crank they have made a thorough in-vestigation, and are now satisfied that it vestigation, and are now satisfied that it will more than pay them to put more money in the plant. It is now one of the bast-equipped and most thorough street-car systems in the United States, and if they carry out their present plans it will be far ahead of anything of the kind in any city on the coast.

It is more than possible that if they make a success of electricity on the horse-car lines they will do away with the cable system altogether and put in an immense electric plant, but they have not decided yet, and will not determine on anything until they have given the electric branches a fair test.

THE BELT ROAD.

Capt. Barrett yesterday received a telegram from B. O. Carr at San Francisco, saying that the first carload of material for the electric belt road would be shipped the first of next belt road would be shipped the first of next week, and telling him to get ready to coinmence building operations at the west city line at once. Capt, Barrett says that he will commence at the Agricultural Park, and push the work as rapidly as possible until the line is completed to the Southern Pacific and Sauta Fé depots. The plans for the cars have also been prepared, and outline arrawings have been received here. They are the handsomest things in the way of street cars ever seen in this section, and of street cars ever seen in this section, and if they are built according to specifications, they will open the eyes of the people.

The time table of the Southern Pacific was slightly changed yesterday on the Northern lines. The overland will leave at 12:45 noon, instead of 10:40, as heretofore. It is generally believed among local railroad men that the Union Pacific has changed hands. Several railroad officials are now of the opinion that the Union Pacific will not come to Southern California. The river front on the East Side presents a busy appearance just now, and from the look of things, the terminal people evidently mean business. Another Method of Curing Ripe By this method the fruit may be gathered when fully covered, while the clives are still hard.

Take a new cask or barrel, with a faucet near the bottom; cover the bottom of the cask with pure salt one nich thick; then pat in a layer of clives two inches thick; then another layer of salt one inch thick above the clives.

and in this way fill the cask or barrel; the upper layer of olives carefully cover with salt. When the salt dissolves, drain off the bitter water, and then pour in more salt, and when dissolved drain in more salt, and when dissolved drain off as before, and apply more salt. This part of the process is intended to neutralize or discharge the bitterness. In thirty days drain off the bitter water, pouring in fresh cold water until all traces of salt are washed away. The next point in the process is to remove the large per cent, of salt absorbed by the fruit. This is done by applying water daily. Change the water daily until the fruit is palatable. Then place in glass fruit jars or olive bottles, according to directions given in preceding recipe for brine.

Another method in common use is to fill the cask or barrel with black olives; cover with brine as strong as it can be made. At the end of ten days draw off the brine and apply new brine, made in the same proportions; do this the third time, and at the end of thirty or forty days you can freshen with cold the third time, and at the end of thirty or forty days you can freshen with cold water as in the former experiment. The cask should be in a cool, dark room. If you wish to let the fruit remain in this strong brine until spring you can do so by putting in the head of the barrel to exclude the air. The olives of commerce are exported in strong brine, then treshened and bottled; salicylic acid being added to the brine in the bottles.

FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON DEPOSITS. The notice of the public is called to the fact that this bank has the largest paid-up capital of any Savings ban in Southern California, and only loans money on approved real-estate security; that among its stockholders are some of the coldest and most responsible citizens of the community; that, under the State law, the private estates of its stockholders are prorate stable for the total indebtedness of the bank. These facts, with care exercised in making loans, insure a safe depository for saving accounts. School teachers, clerk mechanics, employés in factories and shops, laborers, etc., will find it convenient to make deposits in small amounts. CHILDREN'S SAVINGS DEPOSITS received in $\frac{1}{2}$ cents and upward. Remittances may be sent by draft or Wells, Fargo & Co's. Express.

BISHOP NICHOLS.

A Distinguished Divine in Pasadena.

PLEASED WITH THE COUNTRY

He Addresses the Ladies' Auxilian Reception Today at the Rectory--Notes and Comment - Brevities.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Nichols of the Diocese of California arrived in town at 9:15 o'clock yesterday morning. He was met at the station by Rev. G. A. Ottman, the pastor of All Saints Church. An extended drive was taken, South Pasadena first being visited where the distinguished divine wastrown the mission recently established by Rev. Ottman. The town was thoroughly inspected and some of the neighboring outside points of interest vis-

As will be remembered, Bishop Nichols has been in California a comparatively short time. This is his first visit to the southern portion of the State, and it feebly expresses it to say that he is favorably impressed. During the drive he expressed the heartiest admiration of Passadena and her surroundings. Our matchless climate, the grandeur and beauty of the scenery, the flowers and foliage, beautiful homes and attractive thoroughfares, all were noticed and enthusiastically commented upon.

ically commented upon.

In the afternoon Bishop Nichols In the afternoon Bishop Nichols spoke before the Ladles' Auxiliary of All Saints' Church. The attendance was large. The address had to do with missionary work. The importance of individual effort was emphasized. Every one connected with the church, man, woman or child, should do their share of missionary work. This does not necessitate labor in foreign lands, but rather applies to home labors, each striving in some way to benefit his neighbor. High tribute was paid to the efficiency of the missionary work of women at home and abroad.

In the evening a confirmation service of the conf and abroad.

In the evening a confirmation service was held. This afternoon a reception will be tendered Bishop Nichols at the rectory from 3 to 6 by Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Ottman.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The tide of everland passenger tra fic is now strongly westward.

We predict that before the new yea is ushered in Colorado street will be paved.

Bishop Nichols was warmly welcomed in Pasadena. He expresses

To the credit of the property-owners it said that most of the shade trees ining the streets have been trimmed, hus greatly enhancing the beauty of ur thoroughfares.

The tired sensation in the eyes experienced by many using the electric light, is said to be due to the fact that the luminous waves are of great intensity and not to a preponderance of viole chemical rays.

Some of the visitors who came to Pasadena with the intention of remaining a week have been here a month and have no thoughts of leaving. Af-ter spending the winter among us it will mean a permanent residence.

Most towns of Pasadena's size located in less favored climes have their sanitary matters looked after by a kept on coming through the rain and Board of Health. This comprises, besides the board proper, a health officer, an efficient sewer system, etc.

Pasadena seems to have little need just now for more than a health officer to attend to its. than a health officer to attend to its sanitary regulations. In case, how-ever, the completion of our sewer sys-tem is much longer delayed, there is no telling what may happen.

This is charming tennis weather; the club is prospering and the tennis ball is almost at hand. The graceful tribute a well-known writer pays to the lady players is not, therefore, inappro-priate. He says: "Of the charm that women bring to the game I need not speak. They are strong in subtleties of play, which, but for them, might never be cultivated. They are graceful and gentle; they have spirit and enthusiasm, and in tennis, as in other enthusiasm, and in tennis, as in other things, they stimulate man to do his best. How they thank you with a look! How they rejoice with you! How they comfort you! How often they outdo expectation and how pretty they are! If they fight against you, what winsome if not winning adversaries! Of course, there are women who don't play well. But it would be a bad day for lawn tennis were it to discard the feminine element. Professionalism would follow, and then good-bye to it.

Keep the Nails in Trim. The base of the nails presents a not less important field for the exercise of care and attention than the tips. No nail can be a handsome one which is overgrown and smothered at the lower by a clinging mass of skin ofter dry, split and ragged from neglect. If this condition has been allowed to continue from childhood the adult person who has come to feel something of pride in his personal appearance will confront quite a task in the attempt to correct the evil; but there is nothing of this sort impossible to the persistent, careful worker.

The skin should be patiently pressed back, by degrees, till the beauty of the well proportioned nail, with its charming, pearly white creecent at the base, stands out as an adequate reward for all the effort. If a manicure set be not at hand, gentle pressure from the thumb rail of the concepts hand wakes a very nail of the opposite hand makes a very cceptable substitute, the field of opera tions being kept in good condition by frequent bathing and rubbing, especial pains being taken to remove nails" or any fragments of dry skin adhering to the nails themselves.—Good

They Will Grow Here. [Sonoma Valley Republican.]

[Sonoma Valley Republican.]
California is nearly void of the shrubs and trees which furnish the brilliant autumnal tints that so grandly illuminate the Eastern hills and vales. But from this natural discrepancy it should not be supposed that these will not grow and produce their bright should not be supposed that these will not grow and produce their bright colors in California. A few venture-some spirits have introduced from the East the sumach, dogwood, swamp maple, sassafras, red and white oak, etc. They are all growing satisfactorily in various portions of the State, and at this time they are gorgeous in color, making strangely beautiful contrasts with the evergreen, palms, araucarias, pepper trees, acacias, etc. Their introduction should be general in the pleasure grounds and parks of California; they will not encroach upon, fornia; they will not encroach upon. but will add to the beauty of our semi-tropic plants and trees. For the most part, they will look out for themselves, after having been carefully planted. There are many fine grounds that a touch, fringe or clump of color would greatly brighten and relieve the sombre effect produced_by the preponderance of evergreens. Let us have more landscape color.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The stock market day was much less active than for a week past, the general list being comparatively dull with small fluctuations and practically devoid of feature. There was, however, no lack of animation in half a dozen or more of the leading stocks, and other fluctuations of the leading stocks, and other flu were as large as usual, the prevailing ten dency being downward. Cause for a re-newal of uneasiness was found this morning in a dispatch from abroad, which re ected a less confident tone, and indicated that the squeeze for money on the other side was by no means over. Here, money telegraphed from San Francisco, aggregating $1,500,000, gave a much easier tone to the money market, and while funds on call were run up to 13 per cent., at one time loans were made as low as 4, and the final one at 5.

Domestic news was of a rather encourage ing character, but the movements in the market were again principally owing to the operations of the bears, who took advantage of the cessation in the disposition to buy for a rise, which has been so pronounced for The owners of three-fourths of the property fronting on that portion of the street it is intended to pave have the most prominent stock on the list, and for some time it was comparatively their willingness to hear their property. for some time it was comparatively neglected, while transactions in it reached the ordinary hgure. Its early advance was not held, and it slowly drifted back to the neighborhood of 11. The feature of later dealings was the heavy selling of Northern Pacific, which from 60½ declined to 57. A severe drive was made ag inst Pacific Mail with the first sales, and it was depressed 3½ per cent, the decline being accompanied by certain vague rumors, but about which nothing of definite character was developed. The stock later seemed to have good support, and made a substantial rally.

In the afternoon the market continued to settle down slowly and steadily, and finally closed active and weak at or near the lowest prices of the day. Lackawanna is down 4%, Louisville and Nashville 2½. Union Pacine 2½. Sugar 2½. Northern Pacine preferred 2½, Atchison 1½, and St. Paul 1½.

TELEPHONE 1941 TELEPHONE 30

There is an undelivered telegram at the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, for Mrs. Charles J. Glover.

The Sunday school of St. John's Episcopal Charch, corner of Adams and Figueroa streets, will be opened on tomorrow at 9:30 a. 17.

The regular weekly meeting of the Fi-nance Committee of the Council was held yesterday, but no business of importance

The Board of Supervisors have thirty-nine precincts yet to canvass of the elec-tion returns. The official count will not be concluded before Tuesday next. The notorious Billy Titus was arrested on Upper Main street yesterday about noon by Officers Craig and Valencia. He was locked up on a charge of vagrancy.

Excursionists to Arrowhead Hot Springs Hotel Sunday will have a chance to look over the route contemplated for the new electric railway to that popular resort.

Mrs. Fulmer, recently convicted of va-grancy, was yesterday sentenced to forty days imprisonment in the County Jail, and was sent to the castle on the hill to serve ner time.

It is said that the new pipe recently put in the woolen mill ditch is leaking worse than the old pipe that was replaced, and that the contractor is stopping up the holes with rubber bands.

The Street Superintendent yesterday accepted what is known as Temple-street system No. 2, embracing all that portion of Temple street west of the enginehouse and Angeleno Heights.

Angeleno Heights.

The Lincoln Club held a meeting at the hall at the corner of Requena and Main streets last evening, when the policy to be pursued in the approaching city canvass was discussed at length.

was discussed at length.

A complaint was yesterday sworn out against Ida Scott, in Justice Austin's court, charging her with being a wandering minor. The girl had not been brought into court up to the hour of adjournment.

pt to the hour of adjournment.

It was reported yesterday that Chadwick was in the city, and had been seen on the treets. If such is the case he will probably be arrested, as he is in contempt of court, and a bench warrant is out for his ar-

It was reported on the streets yesterday that George Martin, one of the young men who robbed the Santa Féa few months since, has been arrested in the East. The Santa Féa people have not as yet been notified of the arrest.

ned of the arrest.

Louis Moracco and John Capera were arrested on Upper Main street late yesterday afternoon by Officer Valencia, and taken to the police station, where they were charged with fighting. The men put up $10 cash ball each and were released.

Capt. Lockwood, in charge of the city chain-gang, reported at the police station last evening that a man named Hommel, living out on Temple street, had driven off an embankment, but was not seriously burt. Hommel's wife, who was in the wagen, was not hurt.

waron, was not hurt.

There is a case out on Bixel street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, that needs looking after. A colored woman who is in a delicate condition is living in an old shed, which really affords no protection against the weather. People in the neighborhood think the woman should be sent to the County Hospital, where she can receive proper attention.

proper attention.

For some time past the members of the Union-avenue M. E. Church, corner Union avenue and Court street, have been annoyed by a gang of unruly boys, disturbing the worshippers during services by loud noises, and other outrageous and unseemly practices. Efforts have been made to get the boys to desist from their hoodium practices, but without avail, until forbearance has ceased to be a virtue, and the police have been notified. If these boys wish to keep out of trouble they will do well to mend their ways, and be quick about it.

Probably no system of practice ever employed has been so universally successful as the Aerean system of practice as introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarta, Throat Diseases, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his a ton shment at his remarkable tendency to a considerable for the cold before he takes another, and he is always exceedingly carrful; its also a matter of surpris- to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh seem to abuse, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptons soon appear and he learns to his horror that, instead of recovering from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in read ng, paking or singing; hoarseness at times cocurs, a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat or it appears that some foreigh substance as, for instance, a hair obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue; the ber the lessens on a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a pecular sound in clearing the throat, a feeing as though there was not room enough in the chest to breather these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreatful work. Up to this time the progress of the disease may have easily and has not seemed to become much we see and has not seemed to become much we see and has not seemed to become much we see and the trust that he will "by and by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error that has peopled our cemeteries with consumption and one application at the
